have a request open. The best learning path is:
1. Open Get data in My Collection, then click Send and inspect the status, headers, and response body.
2. Create an environment with a base_url variable, then replace the URL's base with {{base_url}}.
3. Save a successful response as an example.
4. Add two tests: verify the status is 200 and check one important response field.
A collection is the reusable home for requests, tests, examples, and documentation. An environment stores values that change between setups, such as URLs and tokens.
